ALLIANCE of AUTOMOTIVE SERVICE PROVIDERS

Application for At-Large Membership

The Alliance of Automotive Service Providers (AASP) is a national association representing the automotive service industry in the United States. AASP was founded in 1999 by a coalition of state and regional organizations representing the industry. AASP affiliates represent nearly 8,000 automotive professionals nationwide.

AASP works to strengthen its state and regional affiliates by promoting common business interests, forging strategic alliances and monitoring federal legislation and regulations. Increasing involvement from at-large members is an important part of continuing to provide these and other benefits to the industry.

Any mechanical or collision repair shop can join AASP, even if an individual state is not yet formally affiliated with AASP!

BENEFITS

Here are some of the benefits you will enjoy by joining AASP today:

- National affinity programs designed to help save/make you money.
- Industry-specific federal government relations updates emailed to you.
- Company listing on the AASP website.
- AASP member logo for inclusion on your company correspondence and advertising.

Join today and let AASP be your national voice in the industry and a resource that provides outstanding benefits and support for your company.
